- 22. From among the following, identify the incorrect observation regarding Ferdinand de Saussure's seminal distinction between langue and parole.
 - (1) Parole is the particular language system, the elements of which we learn as children, and which is codified in our grammars and dictionaries, whereas langue is the language-occasion (what A says to B).
 - (2) A language consists in the interrelationship between langue and parole.
 - (3) Saussure made this crucial distinction in a study called A Course in General Linguistics (1916).
 - (4) Langue is the particular language-system, the elements of which we learn as children, and which is codified in our grammars and dictionaries, whereas parole is the language-occasion (what A says to B).
- 23. John Heywood wrote a farcical interlude called The Four P's.

Who were the Four P's?

- (1) a Palmer, a Pedlar, a Pothecary, a Packer
- (2) a Printer, a Pedlar, a Pothecary, a Palmer
- (3) a Pedlar, a Parson, a Palmer, a Pothecary
- (4) a Palmer, a Pardoner, a Pothecary, a Pedlar
- 24. In the mechanical drill method of second language acquisition:
 - (a) The learner has the freedom to choose from many responses.
 - (b) The learner's response is totally controlled.
 - (c) Comprehension of the item by the learner is not required.
 - (d) Comprehension of the item by the learner is obligatory.

The right combination according to the code is:

(1) (a) and (d) (2) (a) and (c) (3) (b) and (c) (4) (b) and (d)

25. Thou wilt not wake

Till I thy fate shall overtake;

Till age, or grief, or sickness must

Marry my body to that dust

It so much loves; and fill the room

My heart keeps empty in thy Tomb.

Stay for me there; I will not fail

To meet thee in that hollow Vale.

And think not much of my delay;

I am already on the way.

Which of the following readings do you find appropriate to the spirit of the lines above?

- (1) In that interspace between the lines, the ending of one and the beginning of another, there is a silent internal language, the poem's language-within-language, tacitly signalled through the deployment of rhymed space.
- (2) Ageing and dying are of course helplessly passive; but here love makes them as though they were now also willing things in the husband eager to join his dead wife. Through simple intimate tones of their shared earthly life stay for me, wait for me, I will not fail he not only imagines her but imagines her thinking of him.
- (3) The lyric voice here can feel the poem speaking back to him in the cold lineal stare of 'there was nothing in my belief' even as his dead wife did not. It is as though the poem itself then demands his response, in order to be able to move from one line to another. To attempt that movement in keeping the poem's space alive, the lyric voice asserts, "I will not fail/To meet there in that hollow Vale."
- (4) My whole nature was so penetrated with grief and humiliation of such considerations, that, even now, famous and caressed and happy as I am, I often forget in my dream that I have a dear wife who died, leaving me alone in this world. Even that I am a man, and now I wander desolately back to that time of our lives when my wife and I shared moments of bliss.

87. Samuel Johnson has the following to say about an English poet:

"These images are marked by glittering accumulations of ungraceful ornaments: they strike, rather than please. The images are magnified by affectation: the language is laboured into harshness. The mind of the writer seems to work with unnatural violence - 'Double, double, toil and trouble'. He has a kind of strutting dignity, and is tall by walking on tiptoe. His art and his struggle are too visible, and there is too little appearance of ease and nature."

Hussain had painted a man with a cigar, would you have asked him to put the disclaimer, 'Cigarette smoking is injurious to health' on the painting"?

The point Bharadwaj makes with his rhetorical question is the following:

- (1) The smoking disclaimer is ineffectual because M.F. Hussain's painting wouldn't have carried it.
- (2) The smoking disclaimer on objects perceived as 'art' is simply superfluous.
- (3) The smoking disclaimer is ineffectual because 'art' entertains but does not instruct.
- (4) The smoking disclaimer on screen or on an M.F. Hussain painting distracts us from enjoying art.

Read the following poem and answer questions 97 to 100.

THE MOUNTAIN

My students look at me expectantly. I explain to them that the life of art is a life of endless labor. Their expressions hardly change; they need to know a little more about endless labor. So I tell them the story of Sisyphus, how he was doomed to push a rock up a mountain, knowing nothing would come of this effort but that he would repeat it indefinitely. I tell them there is joy in this, in the artist's life, that one eludes judgment, and as I speak I am secretly pushing a rock myself, slyly pushing it up the steep face of a mountain. Why do I lie to these children? They aren't listening, they aren't deceived, their fingers tapping at the wooden desks -So I retract the myth; I tell them it occurs in hell, and that the artist lies because he is obsessed with attainment, that he perceives the summit as that place where he will live for ever, a place about to be transformed by his burden: with every breath, I am standing at the top of the mountain. Both my hands are free. And the rock has added height to the mountain.
